

The diagram shows a business card layout with a central vertical green line representing a fold. Two diagonal grey arrows point from the top center towards the corners, indicating where the card will be folded. A horizontal blue line with arrows at both ends represents the safety line. A horizontal red line with arrows at both ends represents the cut line. The layout is divided into four quadrants by the central green line and the horizontal lines. The top-left and top-right quadrants are light blue, while the bottom-left and bottom-right quadrants are light grey. The bottom-left quadrant is labeled 'BACK' and the bottom-right quadrant is labeled 'FRONT' in large, bold, grey letters. Text explaining the lines and dimensions is placed in the top and middle sections.

BACK
